July 2009 Free Giveaway Winner of EC-Council's iClass

We Have a Winner!

What's the first thing to go in a bad economy? Training & travel. With EC-Council sponsoring our Free Monthly Giveaway with one (1) Certified Ethical Hacker seat delivered via its iClass format, both concerns have been taken care of for you. iClass is EC-Council’s live, online, instructor-led training modality! There are two delivery formats: 1. FlexClass: This schedule is designed to spread the learning out over a period of time and avoid missing a full week’s worth of work. The times are 4pm – 8pm, MST twice a week for 5 weeks. 2. iWeek: This schedule is similar to the standard 5 day format found at the majority of training centers. The times are 8am – 4pm MST every day for 5 consecutive days. The SRP of the course is $2895 and includes the certification voucher, official courseware and shipping! Select your area of interest and join us for our next available iClass to discover all the benefits of EC-Council certification without the added expense of travel. Courses include Security Fundamentals, Ethical Hacking, Penetration Testing, Computer Forensics, Disaster Recovery & Secure Coding. The deserving winner this month is EH-Net Member, awesec. Congrats and thanks for your efforts.
