Welcome To EH-Net

Discuss in Forums {mos_smf_discuss:Editor-In-Chief}

By Donald C. Donzal, Editor-In-Chief

Welcome to The Ethical Hacker Network where we strive to be the best, single source of penetration testing and incident response on the web. We hope to maintain the high standard set by our sister site, The Certified Security Professional Online Magazine, by providing you with up-to-date information and an active membership. We are now live with the following features and many more to come:
- Articles from some of today's best 'in-the-trenches' professionals.
- Book Reviews and Full Sample Chapters (Not just PDFs) from Addison-Wesley Professional & Syngress Publishing.
- In honor of our launch, CSP Online Magazine's Free Monthly Giveaway will feature 1 free seat from The Training Camp for training in either CEH or CHFI. Membership on both sites will be eligible for this prize.
- Ethical Hacking Study Groups.

With the onslaught of compliance issues and regulatory requirements, ethical hacking will slowly become the norm and not the extraordinary. It will soon become part of your regular audit processes and quite possibly required by law. Whether you perform penetration tests with in-house staff or hire outside firms, every security professional needs to be able to understand the process. This also includes how you handle these sensitive issues after the fact. Therefore, incident response also becomes crucial. A resource for sharing such information will become quite a valuable resource, and we aim to be that resource.