Win Seat in SANS Event Simulcast = $4600!!

In a continuing effort to provide top quality training in a format that helps those with strapped travel budgets, SANS has come up with a unique way of being at the event... without actually being at the event. Introducing SANS Event Simulcast. Simply log in to a virtual classroom to see, hear, and participate in the class as it is being presented LIVE at the event. The Event Simulcast option is available for many classes offered at our largest training events. 1 top EH-Net contributor will win their choice of the following courses at SANS 2012 starting March 25:

- SEC401: SANS Security Essentials Bootcamp Style $4395
- MGT414: SANS® +S™ Training Program for the CISSP® Certification Exam $3995
- DEV522: Defending Web Applications Security Essentials $4195
- SEC560: Network Penetration Testing and Ethical Hacking $4595

So although it would be awesome to be in Orlando, FL in March, at least there's a way to still get the training you need even if your budget dictates otherwise. So as we do every month here on EH-Net, those who contribute the most to the community... be it helping a newbie, spreading the word of EH-Net, writing articles or posting in the forums... win kewl stuff!
