Win Penetration Testing Professional v2 Course by eLS!!

On March 21, 2012 eLearnSecurity released a drastically improved verion of the course materials for their professional-level training course, Penetration Testing Course Professional. PTP2 now looks highly more sophisticated, polished and advanced than before with 4 hours of new up to date videos, 800 new slides and completely new modules. PTP2 aims at becoming the most hands-on training course on penetration testing with extremely in-depth course material and two different and highly advanced Virtual Labs integrated within the course itself: Coliseum for web application security and the newly announced Hera Lab. The Professional training course leads to the highly practical eCPPT Certification that certifies penetration testers for both testing and reporting skills. The prize this month is 2 seats worth $799 each of the Penetration Testing Course Professional v2 including:

• Hera Virtual Lab access for 30 hours for each

• Coliseum Lab 30 days access for each

• 1 eCPPT exam voucher for each

As always on EH-Net, top contributors are the ones considered for the prize. So 2 lucky EH-Net members will win a wonderful training course simply for participating in the EH-Net COmmunity this month. Past participation is also taken into consideration when deciding on a winner. And be sure to look for a review of PTP2 by EH-Net columnist, Jason Haddix. Good luck!!
