Introducing Skillz H@ck1ng Challenge - Launching May 1, 2006

Got Mad Skillz?We provide the h@ck1ng scenarios,
You come up with the solutions,
Win Cool Prizes!Every other month, your host, Ed Skoudis of Counter Hack Reloaded fame, will bring you entertaining scenarios with just enough evidence to get you going. The rest is up to you. To get off to a running start, the first challenge will be written by Ed. Subsequent challenges will be presented and judged by other highly regarded authors. As host, each author and their challenge will be introduced by Ed. Should be loads of fun. For examples of the scenarios, visit http://www.counterhack.net.Home Features Skillz

Each Skillz H@ck1ng Challenge will be a 2 month process. Here's how it works:
- Starting day 1 of the first month, a new challenge will be posted with an email address for you to send your response.
- Responses (1 per person) will be accepted until the end of the first month and forwarded to the author for judging.
- Approximately 7 - 10 days into the second month, 3 winners will be announced and their responses posted in the Skillz Forum.
- The rest of the second month is dedicated to heated (but civil) debate of the winning entries.
- Each winner will receive signed copies of the author's latest book as well as universal praise from the InfoSec Community.Hone your skillz and sharpen your wit, and soon your name will be in lights.
