

April 2010 Free Giveaway Sponsor - CBT Nuggets

Win Access to Entire Video Training Library!

Last April we offered this prize, and I can't believe the sentiments are even more true a year later. As we all know, training and travel are the first things to go when times are tough. Like it or not, we always need to continue learning even when the travel purse strings are tied overly tight. CBT Nuggets fit the bill perfectly. For those of you who don't know, CBT stands for computer based training. CBT Nuggets are series of 30 - 60 minute chunks... or nuggets... of videos each covering a given topic on the certification of your choosing. It makes it easy and engaging to study for your certs without the need to travel or complete your studies on someone else's time frame. CBT Nuggets are also very cost effective without flashy productions. They simply concentrate on providing the info you need at prices anyone can afford, and they succeed. Topics include CISSP, CEH, Check Point, CISA, ITIL, Microsoft including PowerShell v2, Cisco, VMware, Wireless, Linux and all of the CompTIA exams!

So what's the prize? How about prizes!?! 3 lucky winners will receive not only one full month of streaming access to the entire CBT Nuggets Video Library, but they will also receive a $200 CBT Nuggets Gift Certificate. This is enough for another month of full access or can be applied to the full purchase of the video series of their choice. Good luck and start participating!!
